DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1 – 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Burrow et al., USPN 5,214,821.

Burrow et al. discloses a low contamination swab employing tubular knit fabric, that is comprises a handle (Figure 1 (10)), a cleaning head (Figure 1 (12)), a grasping end (lower portion of Figure 1 (10)), a securing region on the cleaning head (Figures 1-6), and a cleaning tip (Figure 3 (34)) formed by a plurality of compressed polyester fibers (Column 2, Lines 9-14.) Burrow et al. provides several methods for securing the cleaning tip to the handle such as friction fit (Column 4, Lines 22-28 and Figure 6), an adhesive (Column 4, Lines 28-30), or by heat (Column 5, Lines 34-38.)

2. Claims 1 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kachigian, USPN 5,084,005.

Kachigian discloses a swab that comprises a handle (Figures 1-3 (21)), a cleaning head (Figures 1-2 (33)), a grasping end (Figures 1-3 (29)), a securing region (Figure 4), and a cleaning tip (Figures 1-4 (32)) formed of a plurality of fibers. Further Kachigian discloses (Column 5, Lines 41-48) that a swabbing-tip may be secured to a rigid handle structure by ultrasonic welding.

3. Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yutts, USPN 1,903,664.

Yutts discloses a duster and handle that discloses a handle (Figures 5-6 (18')), a cleaning head (Figure 5 (16)), a grasping end (Figures 5-6 (18')), a securing region (Figures 5 or 6), and a cleaning tip (Figures 5 or 6). The handle is a hollow tubular member having a central bore of which the cleaning tip has a shape and dimension of fitting into the handle bore (Figures 2, 5, and 6.)

4. Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gradone, USPN 3,712,296.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8, 9, 13, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burrow et al., USPN 5,214,821 in view of Bozarjian, USPN 6,187,104.

Burrow et al. discloses previously mentioned elements but does not disclose a tether.

Bozarjian discloses a cleaning implement and method that has a tether secured to the handle-grasping end (Figures 1, 2, and 4 (14), Column 3, Lines 7-13, and Column 3, Lines 60-65) and the tether is secured through a handle bore (Figure 1 (23)). The tether may be removable (Column 3, Lines 60-65) or permanent (Column 5, Lines 27-29.) It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to apply the teachings of Bozarjian in including a removable or permanent tether to the swab so that the swab is always nearby or on hand when cleaning.

6. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gradone, USPN 3,712,296 in view of Bozarjian, USPN 6,187,104.

Gradone discloses previously mentioned elements but does not disclose a tether.

Bozarjian discloses a cleaning implement and method that has a tether secured to the handle-grasping end (Figures 1, 2, and 4 (14), Column 3, Lines 7-13, and Column 3, Lines 60-65) and the tether is secured through a handle bore (Figure 1 (23)). It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to apply the teachings of Bozarjian in including a removable or permanent tether to the swab so that the swab is always nearby or on hand.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 12 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
